No. 677 Broadway, New York. * * * * * * * * * * N. B .- A WORD OF EXPLANATION to those who have known us under the style of Evans & Co. The business located by us at No. 6.7 Broadway, New York City, is the oldest established house in the country, and is known world-wide as the original "EVANS & CO.'S GIFT BOOK STORE. Many have taken the advantage of our popularity, to advertise under the same name, to increase their trade—to protect the few who may be unacquainted with us, we would state that we have no connection with any other Gift Book House—and though many advertise under the name of Evans & Co., the firm constituted by D. W. EVANS and J. H. PRESTON, is the first and only concern rightfully using the name. But to prevent all confusion in the future, we shall use the style of D. W. EVANS & CO., and all persons wrongfully using the appellation to mislead the public, will be made to suffer the penalty of the law. D. W. EVANS & CO., No. 677 Broadway, New York.

MISCELLANEOUS READING. A FRENCH WOMAN AT HONE .- She helps to cook the dinner she has bought -for ser-CORNER or BALTIMORE AND CHARLES STS. vants are wasteful with coal and she knows to an ounce how little she can use. In that marvellous place, a French kitchen, where EVERY YOUNG MAN should write immedi- two or three holes in a stove cook such deliately for one of those large and beautifully orna- cate dishes, and perform such culinary feats as our great roaring giants of coal fires have no conception of, she flits about like a fairy. creating magical messes out of raw material of the most ordinary kind. Yes, though a lady born and bred, refined and elegant, and agreeable in society, a belle in her way, she does > activity.

> The dinner of a French family is cheap and simple. There is always soup, the meat of the stew-pan -some-times, if not strict in their expenditures, another plate of the meat -generally two vegetables, dressed and eaten separately, and sometimes (not always) a sweet dish; if not that, a little fruit, such as may be the cheapest and ripest in the season. But there is very little of each thing, and it is rather in arrangement than in material > that they appear rich. The idea that the French are gourmands in private life is incorrect. They spend little in eating, and they eat inferior things; though their cookery is rather a science than a mere accident of civilization. At home the great aim of the French is to save, and a self-sacrifice that will lead to this result is cheerfully undertaken, more especially in eating and in the luxury of idleness.

No French woman will spend a shilling to save herself trouble. She would rather work like a dray-horse to buy an extra yard of ribbon, or a new pair of gloves, than lie on the softest sofa in the world in placid fine ladyism, with crumpled gauze on her bare hands .- Lady's Treasury.

THE EMPTY CRADLE .-- The death of a liton a plant from which a bud has just perished. The plant lifts up its head in freshened greenness to the morning light; so the mother's soul gathers, from the dark sorrow which she has passed, a brightening of her heavenly hopes. As she bends over the empty cradle, and fancy brings her sweet infant before her, a ray of Divine light is on the cherub face .-It is her son still, but with the seal of immortality on his brow. She feels that heaven is the only atmosphere where her precious flower could unfold without spot or blemish, and she would not recall the lost. But the anniversary of his departure seems to bring his spiritual presence near. She indulges in that tender grief which soothes, like an opiate in pain, all hard passages and cares in life.

The world to her is no longer filled with her human love and hope in the future, so glorious with heavenly love and joy; she has treasures of happiness which the worldly, unchastened heart never conceived. The bright fresh flower with which she has decorated his room, the apartment where her infant died, are mementoes of the far brighter hopes now dawning on her dreams. She thinks of the glory and beauty of the breast of the Saviour, and she knows her infant is there in that world of eternal bliss. She has marked one passage in that book now emphatically to her the Word of Life, now lying closed on the toilet table, which she daily reads: "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." GUANO! GUANO!! GUANO!!! It can be freely used without danger of burning the seed or plant by coming in contact with it, as is the case with some other Fertilizers; retaining a great degree of moisture, it causes the plant to grow in a healthy condition, and as experience has proved, FREE OF INSECTS.
